

Artist Biography

Anita Loomis lives and works from her home studio in Webster, Massachusetts. After earning a BA in studio art from Framingham State College she worked in the architectural glass field for years before turning her focus to painting in the early 2000s. Her work is often characterized by expressive line, vibrant color, and hints of her dark sense of humor. Loomis' work has exhibited internationally, and she is a Core Member at Fountain Street Gallery, the Global Network of Watercolor Painters, and Arts Worcester.